ONGOING CASE MANAGEMENT | ERRORS CORRECTION

If a worker finds an error on a case, they should:

- Correct the case going forward.
- If the previous worker made an error, the staff member that finds the error should notify their own supervisor about it, so that supervisor can follow up with the supervisor of the worker that made the error.